PEONY PRICE LIST FOR 1935

GROUP 1

In this group which follows we have placed about sixty outstanding flowers, all of which are suitable for average garden conditions. By this, we mean that they have sufficiently strong stems to stand up under almost any circumstances, and that they will be satisfactory to you for growing in your garden for garden use, as distinguished from cut-flower or exhibition use. Here you will find a representative lot of all of the three colors of peonies and some in each season of bloom.

We recommend this group to our friends and assure them that they may make a selection from it without fear of getting flowers which will not meet garden requirements. You can rely on each and every one of these plants to be good in your particular garden.

The group is further divided into three lots, the first lot selling at $1.00 per division, the second at $1.50, the third at $2.50. In this way we feel selections can be made quickly and easily and the purchaser may make his selection from the price class he desires with the least effort, but with assurance that he is getting the type of flower that he wants.

In this section we have grouped most of the newer and scarcer peonies, together with a few of the older ones, all of them characterized by certain characteristics which do not make them particularly desirable for general garden use. We refer to such flowers as Tourangelle and several others, which while very beautiful when used as cut-flowers, do not stand up because of the weak stems and are entirely unadapted to the garden where they will have to withstand weather conditions. The

For our 1935 price list we are continuing the practice we started last year of dividing peonies into different groups instead of listing them alphabetically. This listing last year met with the approval of most of our customers. The flowers are listed in this way in the belief that it will help many to get just the kinds of flowers they want for their gardens. Some varieties are best suited for garden display, others are choice exhibition flowers and some are good for general use. There is one division of new and rare varieties. A complete explanation precedes each group.

We have not given lengthy descriptions of the varieties as most of them, with the exception of the newest, can be found in the Manual of the American Peony Society, a book which should be in the library of every peony lover. Our Gate House Store can supply it at the publisher's price of $3 postpaid. Or we shall be glad at any time to give detailed descriptions of any of these peonies if you write requesting the information.

The prices quoted in this list are for strong, healthy five-eye Auglaize Gardens divisions with generous, well-balanced root systems, cut from three-year-old plants. We can also supply one-year-old plants at the same price if you prefer this size. Prices on large plants for immediate effect will be quoted upon request.

The arrangement in this list is as follows: First, the rating as given by the American Peony Society. Second, the name of the variety. Next comes the color, then the season of bloom, early, mid-season or late.

flowers of this group vary in price, and include many which are very scarce and consequently higher in price and which have not been rated by the American Peony Society. This is a group which with the exception of the exhibition flower varieties should be considered by the specialist, and would not interest most home gardeners, at least not until such time as there is sufficient stock of these in propagation that their price becomes lower.

GROUP 3

In this group we have included a group of some of the older flowers. All of these are nice flowers, but they have been on the market for many years and the stock is large and consequently the price of the flowers in this group is lower than those in either one of the others. The flowers in this group are not of as fine quality and very few of them are as highly rated as those in Groups 1 and 2, so we do not advise that you depend upon this group exclusively if you want a fine attractive garden effect. A few of them should be used to fill in if you find you need some extra varieties, or because of their low price they can be purchased in considerable quantity to use as cut flowers if you need something of this character.

AUGLAIZE GARDENS, VAN WERT, OHIO

ORIENTAL POPPY PRICE LIST FOR 1935

Australia—A large massive flower of oxblood red, carried on a heavy stem. An outstanding flower which is worthy of being classed with Lula A. Neeley and Wurtembergia	$1.50
Beacon Flame (a Neeley introduc- tion)—A fine dark red which might be called an early Lula A. Neeley ..	5.00
Cavaller (a Neeley introduction)— Cerise, somewhat similar in color and form to Wurtembergia, but a larger flower and lasts longer. The flower is wonderfully formed, of re- markable substance, is carried on a long stiff stem. An outstanding poppy in the red class	5.00
Echo (a Neeley introduction)—This poppy is quite different from other pink poppies and is very attractive. The color is a light silvery pink with a light maroon blotch—one of our favorites of the entire group ..	7.50
Edna Perry — A lovely bright pink flower, opening a little later than Mrs. Perry. A vigorous grower50
Enchantress (a Neeley introduction) —The color of this wonderful poppy is a soft lilac rose and by some ob- servers might be termed lavender. Enchantress is a seedling of Mas- terpiece. It is as distinctive in color as its parent, but always opens per- fectly, does not fade as quickly and is just a little deeper in color. It has none of the faults of Master- piece and all of its good qualities. Enchantress is a distinct improve- ment in poppies of this type and will prove extremely popular	7.50
Enfield Beauty—Cerise pink75
Field Marshal General von der Goltz —Said to be the finest white poppy in cultivation, tall large and robust, stock very limited, small plants	25.00
Flanders—Deep crimson, almost ox- blood red75
Grossfurst—Deep crimson, and coal- black spot50
Harmony—A distinct deep rose color with lavender cast. Very unusual. Small plants	2.50
Henri Cayeux—Old rose or wine color, should be protected a little from di- rect sun	1.50
Hercules—A flame-red four-petaled flower of immense size75
Jeanne Mawson—A fine large peach- pink that is very satisfactory75
June Delight (a Neeley introduction) —A large, bright silvery pink flower, the color of which improves with age. This plant is so outstanding among the pink poppies that even greater popularity is predicted for it than the famous Lula A. Neeley, Dr. Neeley's best known variety ...	20.00
Lady Moore—A beautiful shade of salmon pink	2.00
Lord Lambourne—A fire-red color and lacinated flower, which always stands out. Finely divided foliage, vigorous grower75
Lula A. Neeley (a Neeley introduc- tion)—Beyond question the finest red poppy grown today and not surpassed by any other for clarity of color, freedom of bloom and good habit of the plant. A good cut flower75

FOLLOWING the same practice as we have with our Peonies we are grouping our Oriental Poppies into two classifications. In the first classification we have those varieties which we feel and which experience has shown us are satisfactory flowerers in every respect and which we feel should form the backbone of any Oriental Poppy planting. Among these are many of the newer Neeley seedlings which in time are going to be recognized as our very finest of Oriental Poppies. There is no question that Dr. Neeley was America's foremost hybridizer of Oriental Poppies and when some of his newer varieties are better known they are going to take their place at the head of Oriental Poppies. His Lula A. Neeley is too well known to require comment. His Mary J. Miller, we feel, when it is better known is going to take its place alongside of Lula A. Neeley as the finest of the pink poppies. Enchantress on the other hand and Ophir Gold represent the outstanding flowers in their particular color classification.

You will make no mistake if you make your selection from List No. 1. Each flower in this list is outstanding. It has proven its merit and we have grown them long enough that we can heartily recommend them. List No. 2 is offered in order that those who have the varieties in List No. 1 may obtain a greater selection if they so desire. However, if your planting is limited in size we see no reason that you should resort to List No. 2. The varieties in this list are in all cases either very similar to some other variety in List No. 1 or are varieties which are not strong growers and not quite as reliable. In this list, of course, are included some other new varieties with which we have had but a limited experience but which, further test may show us should be in List No. 1. It is our policy to always place in this list any new variety until we have grown it a sufficiently long time that we may know its characteristics and can tell whether or not we wish to whole-heartedly recommend it. So from time to time if you follow these lists each year you will note that we will occasionally remove some varieties from the second list and place them in the first.

Our stock of the varieties in List No. 2 is not very large. We merely offer them as supplementary varieties in case you already have a large selection or in case you feel that only one of these flowers can give you the particular shade that you want. In most cases make your selection from List No. 1 and you will find that you will be completely satisfied.

All roots supplied are strong field-grown plants, in almost all cases two-year-old plants, and are shipped during the dormant season, August and September. We do not offer pot-rooted cuttings for spring planting as we feel that while cheaper they are unsatisfactory in most gardens and the loss in planting them is so great that we do not recommend their use.

Mahony—Mahogany purple, an odd color but has a tendency to fade in the sun75
Mandarin—A true Chinese red of good size and fine substance. Vigor- ous grower	1.50
Mary J. Miller (a Neeley introduc- tion)—The latest of Dr. Neeley's in- troductions and we feel one that may turn out to be his finest. The flower is very large, of an intense shade of geranium pink and is car- ried on tall stiff stems. An early prolific bloomer. Outstanding in every respect	20.00
Masterpiece—A lilac pink flower of good size, quite different from most other poppies. It has the unfortun- ate habit of not opening well and of fading when exposed to sunlight ..	1.50
Mrs. Perry—A popular salmon-pink of good form and is a vigorous grower50
Ophir Gold (a Neeley introduction)— A light orange, we feel the best flower of its color class yet intro- duced	7.50
Perry's Blush—The best of the white or near white poppies. Its coloring could be termed ashy white. It has a stiff stem and is a good grower. A much more reliable flower and better grower than Perry's White, which it closely resembles	3.50
Proserpine—A fine cerise flower which when well grown very much resem- bles Wurtembergia, but lacks the substance and clear color of the lat- ter and does not weather as well ..	.50
Purity (a Neeley introduction)—A beautiful soft pink without spots or blemishes. It is of medium size and of unusual charm. Its color will blend to good advantage with most other flowers	7.50
Silver Queen—A dwarf plant for the front of the border, 18 inches high. Silver white in color and a good grower	5.00

Trilby—The last of the poppies to bloom. Deep rich red, the petals are plaited. True stock is scarce and errors are often found in the stock frequently offered	1.50
Wunderkind—Vigorous grower of rose cast. New. Stock limited	2.00
Wurtembergia—With the exception of Cavaller, this is probably the larg- est of all poppies; flowers are often 11 inches across. The color is cerise scarlet with a black blotch. Has al- ways been an outstanding poppy ..	1.00
